

Digital Millennium Copyright Act Policy

In operating the Services, HIGHLINE (hereinafter "HIGHLINE," "Company," "our," or "we") may act as a "services provider" under the Digital Millennium Copyright Act ("DCMA") and offer services as an online provider of materials and links to third-party websites. As a result, third-party materials that are not owned or controlled by HIGHLINE may be transmitted, stored, accessed, or otherwise made available using the Services.

HIGHLINE is committed to complying with U.S. copyright laws, and we require all HIGHLINE customers using our service to comply with them, too. Our Customers may not store any material or content or access, share, or distribute any material or content using HIGHLINE internet services in any manner that constitutes an infringement of third-party copyright rights.

If you believe your work has been copied and posted, stored, or transmitted to [COMPANY]'s website in a way that constitutes copyright infringement, please submit a notification to the following agent:

The notification of claimed infringement must contain the following written information:

- A description of the copyrighted work that you claim has been infringed upon;
- A specific description of where the material that you claim is infringing is located on the website;
- Your address, telephone number, and email address;
- A statement by you that you have a good-faith belief that the disputed use is not authorized by the copyright owner, its agent, or the law;
- A statement by you, made under penalty of perjury, that the above information in your notice is accurate and that you are the copyright owner or authorized to act on the copyright owner's behalf; and
- An electronic or physical signature of the person authorized to act on behalf of the owner of the copyright interest.

Upon receipt of a written notification, HIGHLINE will respond expeditiously to remove or disable access to material HIGHLINE determines may be infringing and will follow the procedures specified in the DMCA to resolve the claim between the notifying party and the alleged infringing party who provided the applicable content.

In addition to the DMCA policies described herein, HIGHLINE also has no obligation to monitor its Services but may do so and disclose information regarding the use of the Services for any reason if HIGHLINE, in its sole discretion, believes that it is reasonable to do so, including, without limitation, to (i) satisfy laws, regulations, or governmental or legal requests, (ii) operate the Services properly, or (iii) protect itself and its Customers and users. HIGHLINE may immediately remove material or information from HIGHLINE's servers, in whole or in part, which HIGHLINE, in its sole and absolute discretion, determines to infringe another's property rights or to violate HIGHLINE's Acceptable Use Policy.
